

SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT SOLUTION

Providing the Total Solution

Initiating a new supply chain management system can be a momentous task: IOS and WNS try to make it easier by teaming up to provide a more complete solution. Gone are the days when you need to search for multiple vendors to complete a single project: our collaborative efforts enables you to get the software and hardware you need to implement your solution as quickly and as easily as possible.

IOS Supply Chain Management Software

Inventory Optimization Solutions (IOS) offers a more intelligent approach to managing your supply chain. At the forefront of the Web-based delivery model for healthcare supply chain management, IOS is a trusted, responsive resource for an expanding customer base of over 1,000 provider facilities. Facilities that have utilized IOS have enjoyed improved efficiencies, reduced costs, increased insight, and enhanced control over their supply-chain management system.

Learn more at: www.ioscorp.com

Completing the Solution

While IOS takes care of providing the software, WNS steps in to provide the clinics and facilities with the enabling terminals to complete the supply-chain solution. The terminals serve to dramatically expedite the inventory management process by enabling employees to scan in serial codes and instantaneously update inventory levels. The most popular terminals for the IOS application are the Opticon OPH—1005 and the OPL—9815. Both terminals feature an interactive screen, a useful tool that allows employees to see and edit what they are doing right on their handheld.

There is a reason IOS continually refers us as their preferred vendor. Find out why by contacting us today!

Key Features

- Ability to manage the supply chain for all your facilities within a single application
- Barcode scanning for inventory tracking and management
- Multi-vendor electronic ordering

OPL-9815

OPH-1005

Key Services

- Pre-loading the IOS software on the handhelds (for smaller clients)
- Offering suggestions on best-fit equipment based off of years of industry experience
- Providing fast, reliable service